When the people of Russia ask the Czar for bread he fires a bullet at them. It is too bad the Japs could not have captured the beast and sent him to Siberia.

There is no social equality among the people of the North regarding the colored race. There may be a few such cranks, but they are in a small minority.

There is one thing certain in regard to the Russian revolution—we are better posted on the "inkvitch" and "grabowski" names than we were before the war.

Pensacola citizens who have been refugeeing for a long time waiting for the yellow fever to cease, will now be able to return home. They have the sympathy of the whole State in their affliction.

The Chicago & Alton Railroad Company has decided to discontinue the running of all local freight and passenger trains on Sunday, the object being to give as many employees as possible rest on that day.

The Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Harrodsburg, Ky., has decided to give all eggs laid by their hens on Sunday to charity. Everybody knows that the good Presbyterian hen would not break the Sabbath by laying eggs.

The holders of policies in the life insurance companies now being investigated need have no fear of their policies not being as good as gold. Don't give up on account of the showing in regard to the appropriation of funds. The companies are all perfectly sound, and each policy holder will get his just dues as the document calls for it.

Pasco county is among the latest to join the "dry" column in Florida. In an election held last week the "drys" carried the day by an overwhelming majority. The county voted dry once before, but the election was set aside in the courts. This time it is claimed that the election was conducted so that the will of the people will be heeded.—The Tampa Herald.

The Sun acknowledges an invitation to opening ball at the Tampa Bay Hotel, to be given on Tuesday, November 14th, 1905. If we fail to be present we will consider our regrets will be there. The Tampa Bay is one of the best of the resort hotels in Florida, and it is worth the time of any tourist to go there, if only to see it. Others may be fine, but there is no more substantial or attractive hotel in the Land of Flowers.

Bitter is the dose when it is administered by the usual young and good-looking rival, but when it comes from the "old man," gall and wormwood would make a nectarous draught. A Long Island boy had to accept defeat in the lists of love, his father, one-legged and forty, beating him out in the struggle for the hand and affections of a 14-year-old girl, whom the father wedded. The boy announced that he would be "horn swaggled" if he would have a 14-year-old step-mother who used to be his sweetheart, and accordingly left home.

THE NEWSPAPER.

There are many people who do not understand very little of what constitutes a newspaper, and there are many who never appreciate the benefits derived from the publication of the many local papers throughout the country.

Webster's dictionary says that a newspaper is "a sheet of paper printed and distributed at stated intervals, for conveying intelligence of passing events, advocating opinions, etc.; a public print that circulates news, advertisements, proceedings of legislative bodies, public announcements," etc.

The maker of the dictionary had never seen any of the newspapers of the present day that pay out hundreds of dollars every day to get the news, nor had he ever seen the papers that are issued with pages of illustrations to praise the locality in which they are located. The papers of the past barely kept up with the definition given of the word "newspaper," while now they not only do all that, but expose frauds, hunt down criminals and hold up to public scorn many evil-doers.

Each week the up-to-date newspaper has many columns of facts setting forth the advantages offered in its locality, willingly publishes without price the announcements of meetings and all assemblages that are for the good of the community, the uplifting of mankind, condemns evil, and pays the last tribute to those of her citizens who have finished their labors here and gone to the great beyond.

Frauds are exposed through the newspapers of today; struggling and worthy people are assisted in their efforts to establish themselves, and in many instances, where there is a hope of improvement, the press is the first to overlook the mistakes made by the unfortunates of their community.

While the space in a newspaper is just as much a commodity as the goods in a merchant's store, it is given many times without compensation, to help along a worthy enterprise or person, and it is the paper of influence that often does more to build up a town or city than all other efforts combined.

The newspaper is always working for its home town, but it must exact remuneration when it booms a man or company's private enterprise.

FORESTRY IN THE SOUTH.

The efforts of the United States Department of Agriculture to induce the Southern States to adopt some intelligent system that would save their forests and assure an annual revenue from them instead of pursuing the wasteful policy of the West is meeting with approval throughout this section. The matter has been taken up, not only by the forestry bureaus of the several States, but by the railroads, magazines, etc.

The Southern Railway, for instance, in its publication, The Southern Field, points out the great economic value to the South of its woodlands, if they be intelligently and properly utilized; and it points out the wasteful methods that have heretofore prevailed. Lumbermen invariably cut the most valuable trees first, leaving the poorest species to restock the land; much of the logging of the South has been very wasteful of the timber handled; and there has been almost no regard for the young growing timber which forms the nucleus of future forests. Finally, there has been extreme recklessness with fire in the forests. But there has been a growing realization of the seriousness of such waste, and the Southern Railway is doing its utmost to encourage ordinary business prudence on the part of land owners and mill operators.

BOTH FOOD AND MEDICINE.

We like best to call Scott's Emulsion a food-medicine. It is a term that aptly describes the character and action of our Emulsion. More than a medicine—more than a food, yet combining the vital principles of both. It is for this reason that Scott's Emulsion has a distinct and special value in all wasting diseases. There is nothing better to remedy the troubles of imperfect growth and delicate health in children. The action of Scott's Emulsion is just as effective in treating weakness and wasting in adults.

ators to insure the perpetuation of the great timber resources.

Along the lines of railway there is already a scarcity of good timber for the uses to which they may put it, and if the interest of the people can be aroused there may be much done to save the indiscriminate slaughter that is now going on.

BOUQUETS.

The Jacksonville Metropolis of Saturday evening had a bunch of bouquets gathered from its flower garden by Charles E. Jones, that clever newspaper man, who used up a number of vocabularies in bestowing them on the State press gang, and The Sun came in for the following very generous bestowal, which we publish, in spite of our modesty and the blushes it brings forth:

"H. H. McCreary, editor of The Gainesville Sun, besides getting out one of the best newspapers in the State, is the sexton of a cemetery—a journalistic cemetery—where rest many publications that were started to 'down McCreary.' McCreary is another of your so-called 'born editors.' He knows news when he sees it, and he knows how to handle it in a pleasing way. His personal notes each day are a distinctive feature of the paper. The people of Gainesville and Alachua county have a right to be proud of The Sun."

WHAT CHURCH DO YOU ATTEND?

There is not a city in Florida where the people are more regular in attendance at church than in Gainesville, and it is seldom they miss going once on Sunday, no matter if they have worked until midnight on Saturday.

About the first question asked a stranger on his arrival in the city is: "What church do you attend?" And if the stranger names the one the questioner is a member of or not, no further questions are asked. There is little or no prospecting by the members of any church. All they care to know is that you have a choice and attend church.

That is the kind of religious sentiment to manifest, and by so doing there is no discord among the members of our churches, but all labor for the upbuilding of the moral and religious sentiment of the city irrespective of creed.

A TIMELY REBUKE.

The Dunnellon Advocate, in making a few comments on the present educational scheme brought about by the Buckman bill, very properly remarks:

"Chairman N. P. Bryan of the State Board of Control has had published an article correcting some of the misleading statements made by enemies of the present scheme of education as provided for by the Buckman bill. These enemies are allowing the local benefit of the money formerly expended by the State to overshadow the good of the whole State and the education of our youth."

"They care not a rap for the education of our young people, but want the money that was formerly expended in their home towns. Such people are certainly not to be allowed the care of any of our colleges."

SUNSTROKES.

The Equitable is worthy of the name—it gave money to both political parties.

The man who expects value received for his friendship is not what is called a Platonic friend.

When they get too corrupt for Coney Island, the only place left for the bad ones is Wall street.

We hardly think that the Lord is so anxious to wait and take Russell Sage at par, when he can take him at 88¢ 89¢.

There are some people who don't display much judgment themselves, who get angry when given good advice by a person who is superior to them in knowledge.

This country has ambassadors to eight countries: Austria-Hungary, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Mexico, Russia and Brazil. We have ministers to about thirty more.

California's cut of redwood for this year will approximate 300,000,000 board feet. Eucalyptus is now coming into use as a commercial wood in that State.

It ought to make a man feel very happy not to have any money and be able to think how many fool investments he didn't go into.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the Home for Catarrhal Diseases.

Remarkable Cures Effected By Pe-ru-na.

Under date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife has been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past twenty-five years. Her case has baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing. She was also passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life."

"In June, 1895, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peruna and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her."

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of twenty-five years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Peruna according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me. Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more."—John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Peruna:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peruna. I am still cured of catarrh."—John O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272.

Mrs. Alla Schwandt, Sanborn, Minn., writes:

"I have been troubled with rheumatism and catarrh for twenty-five years. Could not sleep day or night. After having used Peruna I can sleep and nothing bothers me now. If I ever am affected with any kind of sickness Peruna will be the medicine I shall use. My son was cured of catarrh of the larynx by Peruna."—Mrs. Alla Schwandt.

Why Old People are Especially Liable to Systemic Catarrh.

When old age comes on, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

This explains why Peruna has become so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safeguard. Peruna is the only remedy yet devised that entirely meets these cases. Nothing but an effective systemic remedy can cure them.
